English links can also be made to any ASDAN module as communication is one of the key skills in all modules

In addition in pastoral sessions and options students will access a range of reading materials to include comics, magazines, newspapers, fiction and non-fiction reading books and audio books.

In work, travel and leisure options different genres of writing including: recipes; advertisements; instruction writing; note taking; lists, will be covered.

Speaking and listening will be encouraged across the curriculum with students participating in discussion, drama and role play and delivering presentations to their peers and others.
